Other change As part of the OMB approved Early Childhood Longitudinal Study Kindergarten Class of 2010-2011 (ECLS-K 2011) field test (1850-0750 v.5), NCES will be asking teachers to complete academic rating scales related to children's science knowledge and skills. The science rating scale items have been revised and are now more standardized across grades, use more age appropriate examples of science knowledge for younger children, and better align the descriptions with the skills and knowledge being assessed in the science assessment. This change request is to approve the use of the revised science rating scale items in the ECLS-K:2011 field test. There are no changes to the expected respondent number, respondent burden time, or the cost to the federal government that were approved by OMB (1850-0750 v.5).
